

Hiroshi Sano, PhD.

Advisor to General Manager
Advanced Polymers Planning Department
&
Sustainable Resources Department

 MITSUBISHI CHEMICAL CORPORATION

1988: acquired a doctorate in plant biotechnology of Tsukuba University.

1990-2002: after having performed fundamental researches of molecular breeding of crops in a national research institute, obtained a position of chief scientist in Plantech Research Institute of Mitsubishi Chemical.

2002-2007: assigned to an international cooperation organization and developed a breeding technologies for a main crop in Southeast Asia with local researchers.

2007- present: works on development of biochemicals and bioplastics, and established an international JV of bioplastics.